1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1, 2 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Parker in view of Jepson (newly cited). Parker discloses the basic claimed structure including a watercraft with a hull 17 a jet pump 4 and engine 2 supported within the hull, a first housing 12, a second housing 18 and suspension means at 19 allowing the first housing to be removed from the second housing for inspection, repair, or replacement. Not disclosed by Parker coupling a drive shaft to the camshaft at one half speed reduction. Jepson discloses a drive shaft 36 coupled to a camshaft 102 at one half speed reduction (column 8, lines 65-75, column 9, lines 1-30). It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to form the engine of Parker with a camshaft coupled at half speed of the crankshaft to the jet drive as taught by Jepson for a very simple drive without complicated reduction gearing.

3. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Parker in view of Jepson as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Simner. Parker does not disclose a retractable blade. Simner teaches a retractable blade 16. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to form the device of Parker with a retractable blade for improved steering at low speeds as taught by Simner.

4. Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Parker in view of Jepson as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Buzzi. Parker does not disclose a flanged shaft connection. Buzzi teaches a flanged connection. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to form the drive connection of Parker with a flanged connection as taught by Buzzi for improved strength.

5. Claims 5-7 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

6. Claims 8 and 16 are allowed.

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-4 and 9 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
